Inside of two minutes it had picked up ping off the miles at the rate of sixty or more a And there Joe hung, digging his toes into than an inch wide, on a bitter cold night, while threatened to wrench him loose. He pressed but he couldn't rap on it. The wind was so let go of either one of the hand holds.

He yelled—yelled at the top of his voice making so much noise and the wind whistled fast that no one heard him.

Joe began wondering if he could hang on Hooker, the next station, a few miles away. sensation in the pit of his stomach he realized even hesitate at Hooker. It's next stop was D BEYOND Hooker. And he knew darned good never hang on that long.

Joe's plight was pretty well nigh hopeless—stop a guy from hoping. And hope was all Joe gan hoping the train would, for some reason, stop.

The train rolled on. Now it was just a Now it was coming into the town. It passed Hooking down, and zipped right along toward Guymon line. Then Joe began hoping the train would stop.

It was a pretty forlorn hope, but it gave him live for.

"We ran over some pretty rough country in the Hooker and Guymon," he says. "There were a dandy places for a fellow in my position to commit minded to stick it out and see the natural outcome."

But Joe didn't dive off of any trestles. He telling him the train might stop. And Joe played knew Hope was a doggone liar and it would be stopped anywhere between there and Dalhart.

Then Came the Miracle

Joe's hands were getting stiff with the cold difficulty hanging on around the curves. He knew Guymon he wouldn't be able to play that game. Soon his numbed hands would let go and he'd jump.

They were approaching Guymon now, and earth was just about up. The train was roaring when suddenly, the miracle happened.

The brakes began to grind—the train began to stop and up ahead Joe could see a red light and a phone set at the "stop" signal.

They stopped at the depot, and several men came down from his insecure perch.

"I was stiff as a board," he says. "My eyes were my face black as coal. I was frozen. I was taken out, questioned, and complimented on my luck. 'made her stop?' they showed me a message. 'Seen me and wired ahead.'"

And the message read: "Man seen hanging on hand side fifth coach of Goldenrod. Stop here."

TO OUR PATRONS

Due to the new economic conditions under which banks operate today, bank earnings have been greatly reduced. Earnings are not adequate to cover many services which, heretofore banks were glad to give their patrons. Depositors have demanded greater protection and the cost of deposit insurance etc., are added items of expense.

A recent survey of checking accounts in the banks of the country showed that more than two thirds of these accounts are carried at a loss. As recommended by the banking departments, and as has been done by nearly all banks, we must ask our depositors to pay a part of the carrying cost of their accounts if a sufficient balance is not carried.

Please bear in mind that we are glad to have your account, even though it is small, but however the number of checks which may be drawn is limited.

After July 1, 1937 a charge of 50c per month will be made on all checking accounts where the average balance has fallen below $50.00 and against which more than five checks have been charged during the month.

Any charge on accounts of religious and charitable organizations shall be optional with the banks. Active checking accounts with balances of $50.00 or more will be subject to analysis and a reasonable charge made if carried at a loss.

HEADED FOR THE LAST ROUND-UP: Here is an example of the death defying TEE-BONE CRASH, one of the featured stunts of the 12-event program of the "Lucky" Lott Hell Drivers who will perform at the POCAHONTAS COUNTY FAIR on Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night, during Fair Week, August 12-17. The Hell Driver circles the race track, races up on an elevated rampway, plunges his car through space, sending it smashing and crashing into another old jallopy placed in its path, causing both cars usually to roll over and over while the driver is at the wheel. There will be a number of new and thrilling stunts attempted by "Lucky" Lott's Hell Drivers at the Fair.

Other features on the program, in addition to the improved Fair Exhibits and displays will be: Jones Greater Shows on the Midway; The Grand Ole Opry on Tuesday; Fisher's Animal Circus with Ruby and the thrilling clown, Mel Marcus, on Wednesday and Thursday; and a Horse Show every afternoon and evening, beginning Tuesday.

(If you have not received a 1946 Fair Premium List and would like to have one, write to The Journal Office and one will be mailed to you).

Have Found In Mountains Are Happy Hunters

Donal, Iran—Two soldiers of the U. S. Army's Third Military Railway Service in the Persian Gulf Command have found the mountain near Donal, Iran, a hunter's paradise.

Several times a week, T-4 Carl W. McDonald, of Atlanta, N. M., and Pfc. Lee P. Sharp, of Slatyfork, W. Va., tramp the nearby mountains for everything from goat to bear.

Things To Do In June

1. Shrubs that produce their flowers from parts developed during the preceding season should be pruned at this time. Such shrubs are the forsythias, spireas, lilacs, weigelas, and others. It is wise to place these shrubs on a renewal basis or on a program in which one-fifth to one-fourth of the old wood should be removed each year and at the end of four or five years the entire old growth of the shrubs will be renewed. If such a program is not followed, the shrubs will get tall and ragged and out of proportion.

2. Climbing roses should be pruned in June after they are through flowering. One-third to one-half of the old wood should be removed to encourage the new growth for the succeeding year's bloom.

3. Cauliflower should be set out about the latter part of June if good heads are wanted for the late fall season. Late cabbage and Brussels sprouts may also be set out.

4. Keep the roses dusted with sulphur or fixed copper to prevent mildew and black spot. Dr. Massey, of Cornell University, states that it is most important to apply the dust before a rainstorm after.

Sharp, who learned to stalk game in the West Virginia hills, has a strong claim to being the command's best hunter. To date, he has brought down 20 bear, 43 boar, and even a larger number of gazelle, mountain sheep and ibex.

He and his hunting companion have had some uneasy moments on their expeditions.

Recently, they tracked down and killed a 200-pound boar, a vicious animal that will turn upon its attacker without warning. Without transportation, they immersed the boar in a nearby river, tying it securely so that it would not be easy prey for vultures and bear.

The next morning, after completing their midnight to 8 a. m. shift at the railroad roundhouse, Sharp and McDonald went after their prize in a truck. It had disappeared.

"We soon found out the reason," said Sharp. "There were fresh bear tracks and we could tell he was a big fellow."

He and McDonald set out after Mr. Bruin. By noon the hunt was ended, but not after Sharp had some uneasy moments.

"We tracked him up the mountains to some rocks. We knew the bear was hiding, but we were unable to find him. Just as I was about to go over some rocks I spied him. He had been watching me.

"My first shot, in the head, seemed only to daze him. He shook his head. Another shot and he dropped in his tracks."

That provided the camp with some bear steaks and among those who sat down and partook of them were Brigadier Generals Donald P. Booth, commanding the PGC, and Frank S. Bes-adier Generals Donald P. Booth, commanding the PGC, and Frank S. Besson, director and general manager of the 3d MRS.

McDonald has had his share of experiences, too. Once a wounded boar took after him. Unable to find a secure spot, he turned his gun around and fired from the hip while on the run.

"Down went the boar," said McDonald. "Boy, that was the luckiest shot I ever made!"

Sgt. McDonald is foreman of the third shift of the Doroud roundhouse where light repairs are made to steam and Diesel-electric locomotives that play over the mountains between Andimeshk and Arak. He is a former fuel foreman for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe at Belen, N. M.

Pfc. Sharp was a section hand for the Western Maryland R. R. prior to entering the Army. He is a mechanic in the roundhouse.

Stewart Collins Boggs

Stuart Carleton Boggs was born on June 21, 1915 near Frankford, Greenbrier county and died at a hospital in Oakland, Calif., on the morning of March 30, 1945. Most of his boyhood days were spent at Boyer, Pocahontas county. He graduated with honors at Greenbank high school in 1933.

Following this, he served in the C. C. Headquarters camp near Kane, Pa., where he worked as a medical assistant in the hospital. While there, he preached to the boys many times. When he left camp, he continued preaching for seven years and was an ordained minister in the Church of God. He held pastorates in three states, conducting successful revivals in many more, and preached over the radio in several western states as he traveled between the eastern and western coasts. In 1936, he was a candidate for the West Virginia Legislature from Greenbrier county. Early in 1912, he entered the employ of the Moore Dry Docks company at Oakland, California. There he became a skilled shipworker, and was soon promoted to a shipwright receiving citation for his skilled workmanship.

His death was due to injuries received on the previous day when a Greyhound bus struck him as he was

His body was laid to rest in a cemetery at Piedmont, California, to await the resurrection morning. He leaves to mourn his loss his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob G. Boggs, a son, James, a brother, John Gordon Boggs, with his family at McDonald, Pa. Two sisters preceded him to the grave in early childhood. Thus we record the passing, in his prime, of one who early gave promise of great usefulness.

His favorite hymn was "The Land of Cloudless Day." We shall meet him in that land where no storm clouds rise and there shall be no more sad farewells.

A member of this busy postal staff is Otis S. Lester, mailman, third class, USNR, of Minnehaha Springs, W. Va., who has been attached to this activity for 11 months. His duties here involve receiving, storage and distribution of mail to ships.

Lester is the husband of Mrs. Faye Lester, of Minnehaha Springs. Before entering the naval service in March, 1944, he was an employe of the Chevrolet Company, of Marlinton.

Graduation Exercises Held For Durbin School Seniors

Commencement exercises for Durbin school were held in the school auditorium Saturday evening, May 26.

Congressman Jennings Randolph, guest speaker of the evening, was unable to be present because of adverse weather conditions which prevented his flying from Washington as he had planned. His place was well filled by Mack H. Brooks, assistant superintendent of county schools.

The school was presented with a Christian flag by the graduating class.

The outstanding boy and girl of the class were given medals and certificates of honor by Post No. 117 of the American Legion. The pupils receiving these awards were George Sheets and Dorothy Ryder.

As valedictorian George Sheets received $5 in defense stamps, and Junior Taylor, salutatorian, received $3 in defense stamps. The two gifts were donated by the school.

Mrs. C. A. McMillion and son, Claude Ashton, dedicated a beautiful Bible to the school in memory of Mr. McMillion, a former principal of the school. This Bible was given in hopes that the students of Durbin school would use it as a guide for their lives.

John S. Hannan
Executor,

To The Citizens Of Pocahontas County

We are again called upon to contribute $3,500,000, our quota for the National War Fund.

Our county has more than subscribed its quota in all calls we have been asked to raise for the prosecution of the war or the comfort of our armed forces.

Our President Truman has said: "We have won the military victory fight in Europe and the Pacific, but we are virtually just beginning the fight on famine, pestilence, and general distress. And I say to you, will full knowledge of everything that can be done by agencies financed by public funds, that the private agencies of the National War Fund have a special task to do that is indispensable."

The end of America's wars has brought the most critical period in the history of the National War Fund. The war is over but its effects and responsibilities are not. For many the war goes on. Millions of American soldiers scattered throughout the world are now relieved of combat duty. The need to maintain their morale and strengthen their spiritual outlook on life has never been greater. Men who are physically fit may become casualties before they return unless our concern for them expresses itself in maintaining the USO and other agencies concerned with their welfare. As never before victory must be won on the home front in the coming War Fund Campaign.

The climax in the Pacific and coming morale problems of an occupational army, and convalescence, mean a peak load for the USO with no chance of a let up till spring.

The stricken of formally enemy occupied countries look to us—for whom else can they look but to you and me for help. Lets do our part.

This is the time to show that we on the Home Front can face a hard task with a reflection of the courage of our men and women in the service. Let us let nothing discourage or let down our efforts in Pocahontas County to win a Victory for peace in the October War Fund Campaign. Chairman, District Chairman and fellow workers in Pocahontas County, lets resolve to carry on until Pocahontas County has met its quota in this humanitarian cause. The men and women who have fought to a well earned victory would not want to believe that our county had failed to follow their example of victory.

1600 men and women of Pocahontas in the armed forces want nothing less than total victory. Organize to reach every giver. The giving is never better than the asking. Let those 1600 know we love them well enough to fight for welfare as they have for our preservation. We are all very busy at this time of year and giving our time and expense for this very worthy cause. When the solicitors call on you be cooperative with them, contribute as liberally as you can. Lets put Pocahontas County over the top.

Very sincerely,

Seamon George D. Allen, of Marlinton, Served on Navy's "Fightingest" Battleship

Bainbridge, Md., Dec. 20.—George Dempsey Allen, S1c, former member of the crew of the fightingest battleship in the Navy — the USS Pennsylvania — returned to civilian life this week via an honorable discharge from the Navy at the Bainbridge Separation Center.

Although a "relic" of World War I, the Pennsylvania fired more rounds of ammunition at the Japs in this war than any other ship in the fleet. She was renowned far and wide as the luckiest battleship afloat, surviving many months of the heaviest action without suffering a major enemy hit. That is, she was lucky until the closing days of the war when a Japanese aerial torpedo caught up with her at Buckner Bay in Okinawa. But she remained afloat, was towed to Guam for repairs, and returned to fight again in short order.

Previous to this, the "Pennsy" carried its crew and material throughout the operations from Attu to the Philippines without loss or injury to either. In all, she participated in 13 major invasions and one major sea battle.

All members of the crew of the Pennsylvania were awarded the Navy Unit Commendation for their splendid teamwork. In addition, Allen wears the American, Asiatic-Pacific and European theatre ribbons and the Philippine Liberation bar.

Preston County Leads In Number of Deer Killed

Charleston, Dec. 27.—Deer killed during the season that closed December 8 totalled 2,367, according to figures which Game Technician W. R. DeGarmo said he believes are virtually complete. The total compared with 2,051 for the 1944 season.

Preston again led the counties, with 336 bucks being taken within its borders. In 1944 the Preston kill was 389.

Complete figures for Pocahontas county were set at 196; last year the total for this county was 207.

In the belief of conservation officials, the kill would have been much higher if the weather had been better. Veteran game protectors reported that the weather in the northern area was the worst in their experience. Bitter cold, heavy snow and low visibility combined to handicap hunters, and so severe were conditions that many nimrods left the woods.

Dunmore War Hero Had Many Exciting Adventures at Sea

Ralph S. Bennett, Boatswain's Mate, Second Class, returned to his home near Dunmore, from more than two years' duty overseas, in time to celebrate his 21st birthday, on November 14, after receiving his honorable discharge from the Navy.

Boatswain's Mate Bennett has seen plenty of action, and wears the following ribbons: American Area, African Middle-Eastern, Asiatic-Pacific, Philippine Liberation, 3rd and 7th Fleet Commendation and the Victory Medal. On the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon, he wears 9 battle stars, and on that of the Philippine Liberation, two

After completing boot training at Norfolk, Va., and specialist school at Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., he received his first assignment on a combat cargo ship (No. 46), bound for Mermansk Russia.

On the way over, this ship was torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic. Bennett was picked up by another cargo ship in the convoy, Combat Cargo Vessel No. 51, on which

On the way over, this ship was torpedoed and sunk in the North Atlantic. Bennett was picked up by another cargo ship in the convoy, Combat Cargo Vessel No. 51, on which he spent 13 months, after which he was transferred to the destroyer USS McGowan.

The McGowan eventually went through the Panama Canal to the Pacific theater where she participated in the invasions, of Saipan, Palau and in the liberation of the Philippines. She made a torpedo run against the remnants of the Japanese fleet in the strait of Sirgao. In the support of the establishment of the Leyte and Mindora beachheads, young Bennett saw his first suicide planes when the destroyer was under

She acted as escort to the crippled carrier, Saratoga, after the Saratoga had been hit by five suicide planes, and brought her back to a safety zone, afterwards rejoining the 3rd Fleet for the support of Okinawa. Off Okinawa, the McGowan was attacked again by suicide planes, but no damage was done. She then went into the Toyko area, bombarding shore installations, and picking up survivors. A great steel plant in the vicinity of Toyko was a special target. Here, too, she was the running escort of three of our big battle wagons.

Boatswain's Mate Bennett saw the flame shoot in the air, and the glow in the sky, when the city of Nagasaki was hit by the second atomic bomb.

His twin brother, Raymond, is with the 8th Air Force, and is now at a separation base in California, waiting to be discharged from the service.

These boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bennett, who own a small farm on the Greenbank-Dunmore road. Mr. Bennett is a World War hero also, having spent 27 months overseas during the first World War.

He took part in seven major engagements, holds honor medals and was the first volunteer to leave Pocahontas county.

His Commander was Teddy Roosevelt, Jr., who died of a heart attack during the war with Germany, so recently ended.
